IMMENSE SUM IS DEMANDED BY LABOR FOR DOLE

OUTLET FOR PEACE RIVER IS PROMISED

Premier King Declares That Railways Must Speed Up or Government Will Compel Them To

MAKES CLAIM FOR DEBT REDUCTIONS

Thinks Tributes Paid by Conservatives to Mr. Robb Fine Example of Canadian Political Life

VANCOUVER, Nov. 15.—The great future of the Port of Vancouver through which the trade goes to help supply the needs of the 600,000 people who live around the Pacific Ocean, was pictured by Premier King in a speech here tonight. This had already become one of the great ports of the world, he said, and contended that the policies of his government had much to do with its growth.

A direct railway outlet of the Peace River district to the Pacific was a necessity and, he said, if the railways delayed too long in reaching a decision as to a route and methods of co-operation, it would be for the State to take such steps as would prevent any dilly-dallying with the problem.

Condemnation of any move to stir up prejudices either between nations or between races or creeds in Canada, featured Mr. King's remarks. If protection had to rely on stirring up prejudices against the people of the United States, there was something wrong with it. In the face of the proposals now before the United States Senate for increasing the tariff policy of that country if the attitude of Canada had been exemplary—that was the attitude of the Government.

He could not say as much for the attitude of the Conservatives. However, the people of the United States understood that Mr. B. Bennett was not the head of the Government, Mr. King asserted, "and is not ever likely to be."

THANKS FOR WELCOME
Prime Minister Mackenzie King expressed his thanks to British Columbia for the warm welcome the people of this province had extended to him. He referred particularly to Mr. G. B. Brown, Premier of the Province, and to the Mayor of Victoria and Vancouver. "Today there has been no end of callers," he said.

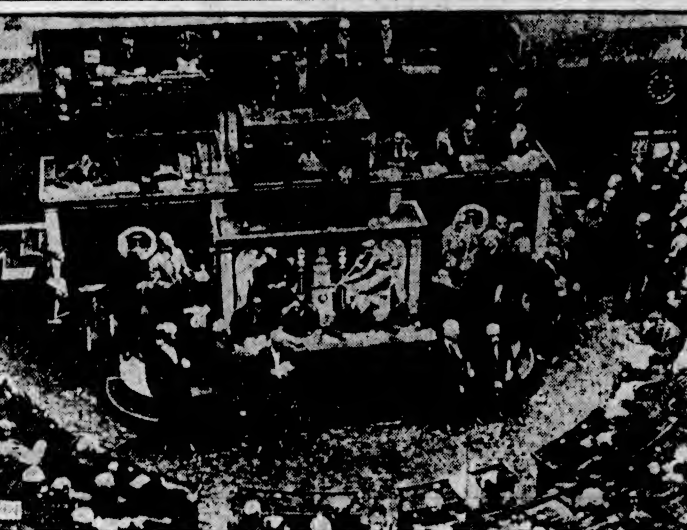

"I believe our policies have been admirable for British Columbia," Mr. King declared. To those who thought his colleague, Hon. Dr. King should do more for his province at Ottawa, the Prime Minister suggested that British Columbia should do more to uphold the hand of Dr. King. He could never understand how a great province, naturally Liberal-minded, and to which Liberal policies were so advantageous should have sent only one member of Simon-Pierre type to Ottawa.

LARGE STAND OF FIR SOLD FOR MILLING

Kapoor Lumber Company Intends to Operate Mill on Cowichan Lake, Cutting From Meade Creek

FIRM HAS GROWN FAST ON ISLAND

The Kapoor Lumber Company is to operate a sawmill of 75,000 feet per day capacity near the foot of Cowichan Lake, having acquired the rights to the land from the Equimault & Nanaimo Railway lands department a stand of timber around Meade Creek.

Meade Creek runs into the north arm of the lake, and limits to be acquired consists of enough timber, chiefly fir, to operate a mill of this capacity for ten to fifteen years. It is reported by cruisers to carry about 80 per cent fir. It is understood the method of logging will be to bring the timber to the lake shore, and tow it to the site of the proposed mill. The precise site for the mill has yet to be settled, but there exists adequate area on the south side of the eastern end of the lake for a good mill pond and sawmill plant.

"This company operates on the Canadian National Railway with a mill near Sooke Lake, and the same interests have a share in another mill between Cowichan Lake and Duncan. It has rapidly expanded its connections on the island."

The announcement is of considerable interest so far as Cowichan Lake is concerned, as it will be the third mill on the lake, the Industrial Timber Mills having a mill at Youbou, the older mill being on the opposite side of the log pond, and known as the Cowichan mill, although operated by the same interests. Both these plants are tributary to the Canadian National Railway, while the proposed mill will ship over the Equimault & Nanaimo Railway.

Ask Government To Defray Cost Of Forth Bridge

LONDON, Nov. 15.—With characteristic caution, local Scottish authorities have suggested to the Ministry of Transport that the project of building a highway bridge over the Forth of Forth should be made a national project. The cost of such a bridge, long mooted as a companion to the famous railway bridge, is estimated at $30,000,000.

Paper of British Labor Charges Canada Holds Up Wheat for Higher Prices

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Local conditions are blamed for the fact that the wheat bins at Liverpool are bulging with grain. Canadian Wheat Pool officials in London, state that Argentine and European wheat has been dumped into Liverpool, causing congestion. The situation is not considered to be in any way indicative of world conditions.

Argentine supplies are now decreasing. More and more Canadian wheat will be in demand. "But we are not trying to get rid of our wheat at the present prices," the pool declares.

B.C. TRADE IS MUCH AFFECTED

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—Asserting that used cars imported from the United States are being placed on the Canadian market on a non-competitive basis with Canadian used cars, the Ontario Association of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce at the close of its annual meeting here today urged an amendment to the Customs Act and its administration in an effort to rectify the situation to which the association objects.

Socialists Plan Theatre to Give Socialist Plays

CHARTER OF AQUARIUM IS ABROGATED

Cancellation of Theosophical Organization's Franchise Ordered by Provincial Government

IS SEQUEL TO INVESTIGATION

Cedar District Fraternity Came Into Prominence Owing to Lawsuit Affecting Right of Control

THE Government has taken action in connection with the Aquarium Foundation Company, of Cedar District, near Nanaimo, and has cancelled the charter of the company.

This organization came into prominence over a year ago when a dispute occurred among those interested in the project which led to court action. The matter was formally referred to the Attorney-General of the Province, who took the matter in turn to the Executive of the Province, which sat and investigated the troubles between the two sections.

Following that, there was a cessation of public troubles between the Government and the company, and has now taken action along the line of cancelling the charter under which the company operated.

The organization, which embraced representatives from England and from the United States, was of a theosophical character and at the head of the organization was Brother Twelve, a well-established theosophist, who had been in existence in Cedar District, where Brother Twelve had his abode, and which was a retreat for various other members of the organization. Owing to the discussion following the dispute with Brother Twelve and the theosophical society, and the Government feels now that it is justified in cancelling the charter.

GAME LICENCE REGULATIONS PROMULGATED

Trappers Can Obtain Permits for Five-Year Term, Subject to Good Behavior—Renewal Privilege

REPLACES PLAN OF ONE YEAR

Changes have been made in the game regulations as these affect trappers' lines. In future it will be possible for a trapper who carries out his work conscientiously, looking to the preservation of the game from year to year, to get a five-year licence covering his trap line.

In addition to this the trapper will also have the privilege of renewing that licence for another five years at the end of his term.

This is all conditional upon the fact that the work is being carried out properly, so that the game animals are being maintained, and the territory is not depleted of the varieties of game which he is taking.

REPLACE REGULATIONS

This new regulation takes the place of the former one which allowed of only a year's licence renewable. This it was found was not enough assurance to the creditable trapper to allow of his taking an interest in seeing that the game was preserved.

CHERRIES DUTY UP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Increases in the tariff rates on cherries ranging from one to over 200 per cent were approved today by the Senate.

Tait Sihar and Harbin, on the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria, are near the Mongolia border."

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Their Majesties the King and Queen returned to Sandringham by train today after a three-weeks' stay in London. The Prince of Wales drove to Buckingham Palace to bid his parents good-bye.

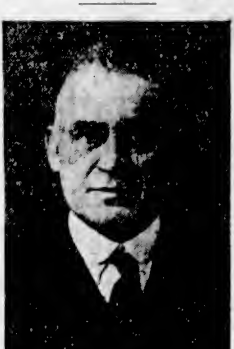

A large crowd outside the Palace raised hearty cheers when Their Majesties departed, as did a crowd at King's Cross Station.

During the King's stay in London he interviewed Prime Minister MacDonald and nearly all the Cabinet Ministers. He visited several theatres and wound up last night by seeing the war play "Journey's End."

Asks $610,000,000 For Doles

MISS MARGARET BONDFIELD, British Minister of Labor, whose new bill, if passed, would involve a demand on British taxpayers for an increase of $610,000,000 for the unemployment insurance fund.

CONTRACTORS TO START ON POWER HOUSE

Plans for New Steam Plant and Laundry Building at Empress Hotel Have Arrived From Montreal

CHIMNEY STACK TO BE 200 FEET HIGH

Plans for the new power house and laundry building of the Empress Hotel, which will be erected on the site of the old Weller Building on the east side of Douglas Street at Humboldt Street, have just come to hand from the engineering department in Montreal, and it is understood that the work will go forward immediately.

The building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $500,000, is to be composed of brick and Tyndal stone, and the work will be carried out by the Carter-Halls-Aldinger Company, which has been responsible for the work on the new wing of the hotel.

The design will be in conformity with that of the Crystal Garden, to which the building will be adjacent, and the chimney stack will be a traditional form of the Georgian and Empire styles.

The boiler-house, which will be sixty feet in height, will form the central portion of the building and the chimney stack will rise to a height of 200 feet.

Test holes have been drilled on the site and bedrock was reached at forty-one feet. Two tunnels will be built under Douglas street to carry the power lines from the power house to the hotel.

Not Anxious At Aviators' Nonarrival

WINNIPEG, Nov. 15.—Unfavorable weather is believed responsible for the nonarrival of Captain G. B. Blanche with his relief expedition at Fort Resolution, second stop on the return to civilization with the rescued McAlpine explorers.

Unreported since early Tuesday morning, when he planned to leave Burrhead River aerial post, to the south of Bathurst Inlet, Captain Blanche, with his trio of Northland flyers, is believed to have made the flight to Fort Reliance, 245 miles from the Inlet, but once there, met unfavorable conditions for the start of the next hop to Resolution.

Land bound, he is awaiting a change in the weather, which may be foggy or turned mild making ice conditions on the lake unsafe for a take-off. Whatever the reason for the long silence it has caused no anxiety on the part of the officials here. They feel that no mishap has occurred.

Conservatives to Urge Retention of P.G.E. for Province

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov. 15.—A resolution urging the Provincial Government to adhere to the original Pacific Great Eastern Railway policy of Sir Richard McBride and complete the P.G.E. Railway from Vancouver, through North Vancouver, into the Peace River district, will be placed before the annual meeting of the British Columbia Conservative Association, it was decided at the annual meeting of the North Vancouver Conservative Association Thursday evening.

Two other resolutions, one calling for the institution of a fifteen-dollar rate for motor licences in British Columbia and the other urging a less rigid examination for motorists, will also be submitted for consideration at the Kamloops meeting.

Members of the association recorded their appreciation of the work which Major-General A. D. McRae, M.P., has done in the interests of Vancouver North riding since being elected to the Federal House and will request him to allow his name to go before the next nominating convention. Colonel G. J. Lennox was elected president.

INCREASE IN DOLE GRANTS IS ENORMOUS

Development of System of Unemployed Insurance in Great Britain Adds Vast Sum to Present Fund

GROWTH NEXT YEAR OVER $62,500,000

State May Have to Make Up One-Third of Total Sum to Be Allotted to Insurance Scheme

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Unemployment insurance in the coming year will cost the British taxpayer $610,000,000. Under Right Hon. Margaret Bondfield's proposed legislation to extend the dole system, contributions from the Treasury to the Unemployment Insurance Fund will be increased by $42,500,000.

The fund is maintained by employers, employees and the state. Previous legislation passed by the present Parliament demands another $30,000,000, making the total increase next year $62,500,000.

The state was already contributing $60,000,000 to the fund, and will now have to make up $22,500,000, more than one-third the total of the fund, and twice as much as the Government provided in the 1929-1930 estimates.

Another indication of the immense cost of this system is the fact that borrowing from the fund from the Treasury amounted to more than $181,000,000 on November 9 last.

EXTREMISTS REVOLT

Labour Party wing is now in open revolt over Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield's bill to extend the dole. The dissatisfaction which Mr. G. Buchanan hinted at in the House promises to materialize in an amendment to the bill on second reading.

The leaders of the Independent Labour party declare their intention to ignore the amendment to a division.

POLICE SEARCH FOR MISSING MAN IN VAIN

Provincial Police Patrol West Coast in Efforts to Locate Thomas Gittens, Seattle Lumberman

WAS LAST SEEN IN MID-OCTOBER

A complete search of the West Coast of Vancouver Island by Provincial Police officers in their motor launch P.M.L.-7, for Thomas Gittens, Seattle lumberman, who has been missing since October 18, has ended, with the whereabouts of Mr. Gittens still shrouded in mystery. Inquiries by the officers along the coast disclosed the fact that the missing man had neither been seen or heard of at the points visited for the last three months.

While Attorney George H. Cranfield, who is retained by the Gittens family in Seattle, is convinced that Mr. Gittens has been slain, his whereabouts has baffled British Columbia and Seattle police for twenty-seven days.

Mr. Gittens, it is understood, was in Victoria on October 11, and drew $500 in cash from the joint account of Tholme & Gittens, organized under the name of the Northwest Cedar Pole Company, Limited. Mr. Gittens at that time said he wanted the money so that he might buy a launch for logging operations.

Would Increase Canada's Trade With Mexicans

OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—After conference here with the Department of Trade and Commerce aimed at increased trade between Canada and Mexico, Mr. Jose Miguel Belarino, commercial agent of the Mexican Government, returned to New York City today.

"Canada is a great field for Mexican produce," said Mr. Belarino, "and Mexico is constantly increasing her production. Canada produces many of the things that Mexico consumes, and Mexico produces many of the things that Canada consumes. Direct trade between the two countries is bound to come."

STATEMENTS OF M.P. ARE REPUDIATED

Canadian Trade Officials Deny Assertion That Canadian Products Are Unknown in England

SAY 'GRATIFYING' SALES ARE MADE

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Canadian trade officials in London are astonished at the statements credited to Dr. Ira Cotnam, member of the Canadian Parliament for Renfrew North, after his return to Canada. He was quoted as saying that Canadian products were practically unknown in the United Kingdom, and Canada was not securing the publicity accorded to other Dominions. The officials regret they had no opportunity of proving that the position is entirely contrary to his impression. Canadian products have been played at twenty-three exhibitions in various British centres this year. It is pointed out. Special displays were featured at the largest London departmental stores in rotation. A highly successful "Canada week" was held in Glasgow. Canadians participated with products and advertising at 125 prominent agricultural shows.

CASE FOR APPLES
Dealing particularly with Dr. Cotnam's complaint that Canadian apples were not to be found, it was declared today the season's crop had not reached Britain when he was here. Canadian apples at the moment are selling at practically every fruit store in the country, and an outstanding feature of last week's Imperial Fruit Show at Birmingham was a display of apples from all Canadian provinces.

support the present Liberal administration. In a touching reference to the death of the Hon. James A. Robb, Mr. King particularly thanked the Conservatives who had given wholehearted tributes to the services Mr. Robb had rendered to this country. It was one of the fine things in public life after all such tribute to an opponent could be paid without any fear of political loss as a result.

EDITORIAL CRITICIZED
Dealing with an editorial that criticized him on his statement that his Government was reducing taxation, and which asserted the per capita tax was less under their predecessors than under the present Government, Mr. King said the former Government had been trying to balance the budget on borrowed money. The country was going deeper into debt every year. The present Government set to work at once to balance the budget and there had been surpluses every year for the past five years.

"Had our opponents balanced their budgets they would have had to levy $245 per capita in 1921, whereas last year to balance the budget would have required a levy of only slightly over $2 per capita. Returning to the tax situation, Mr. King repeated that his Government had been able to steadily reduce taxes and at the same time lower the public debt. "Some people seem to think a Government can do anything and some are complimentary enough to suggest that the Prime Minister get the Government to do anything he wishes," Mr. King observed. He told his hearers a Prime Minister can only do what his colleagues were agreeable to.

He was emphasizing this because there was a move, he understood, in the middle west, to stir up religious and racial prejudices.

PEACE RIVER OUTLET
Turning to the Peace River Railway outlet, Mr. King said he was being told very graphically that Vancouver did not want promises but action. Well, he was not going to make promises. The Government believed a direct Peace River outlet was a necessity and the sooner it

Swamp Land Grass Sought To Sow in Estuarine Lands

Subject Is to Be Tested in Experimental Plots, Based on Success in Oregon With Similar Problem—Question Raised at Courtenay

Wanted, a grass which will stand up under water for part of the year, suitable for growing on the swampy lands of British Columbia. The attention of Dominion and Provincial agricultural specialists is being given to this subject, and, according to a statement to the Comox-Courtenay Board of Trade, an experimental plot is to be tried, after consultation with Oregon agronomists, who are reported to have discovered a kind of swamp grass that will grow on land covered with water for three or four months. Discussing the matter with an official of the Department of Agriculture last evening, it appears that the Provincial men have given considerable study to the matter, owing to the fact that there are many acres of estuarine lands on the Coast available for grazing, provided that a suitable grass can be introduced capable of standing up under the freshets.

The department has been testing with grass on logged-off lands in the Cowichan Valley for sheep raising, and this proposal would be a natural corollary to the reclamation suggestion. The traveler does not need to go far on Vancouver Island to see what a large area could be conserved if the Oregon plant can be successfully introduced into this province.

The rule which is adopted by the game commission, Mr. Bryan Williams, whose work falls under the department of the Attorney-General of the province, Hon. R. H. Pooley, is along the line of maintaining in the province a valuable source of revenue in the form of furs.

In old days the Indians under some sort of mutual agreement had their own trap lines and were careful not to work them out. They saw to it that sufficient game was taken to allow of the preservation of the territory covered in good shape from year to year. The tendency of the white trappers has been to devastate the territory of game. For this reason the system of trap lines was introduced, and licences given to cover them. The system is found to be working out well and the new regulations introduced at the instance of the Attorney-General will still further make for the continuation of a valuable asset to the province.

French Attache Alleged to Have Divulged Secret

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Count De Noblet d'Angleur, an attaché of the French Foreign Office, today was placed on the inactive list for two years on the ground of the part he was alleged to have played in the publication of an official document. Earlier an investigating magistrate had ruled there was no ground for prosecution of the count on charges of espionage and plotting against the security of the state. The count is alleged to have aided Harold Harlan, an American newspaperman, to obtain a document purporting to be a secret naval agreement between France and England. Harlan was expelled from France more than a year ago.

The objection to the bill is that it still does not go far enough. They want the benefits for unemployed adults increased from $4.25 to $5 weekly for the man, from $1.75 to $2.50 for a dependent wife, and from $6 to $12.50 for each dependent child. The only change the bill makes in adult benefits is to increase that for a dependent wife from $1.75 to $2.25.

The Laborites of the Left Wing contend the pound a week scale has the official approval of the Labor party programme. To representations along this line the Government is understood to have replied that for financial reasons it is unable to carry out its full policy at the present time, and that the full policy will only become practical when the necessary financial resources are available. One newspaper estimates that application of the scale proposed by the Left Wing would cost an additional $57,500,000.

Opponents of the present bill claim they will carry twenty Laborites into the division lobby. But if so many would be prepared to go to this length.

ALDERMEN ARE RUNNING FOR RE-ELECTION of the fire wardens, and is also serving on the public works committee.

During the period when he was chairman of the city parks board, two new parks, the David Spencer Park, near the Oaklands School, and the William Stevenson Memorial Park, in Fernwood district, were established. Alderman Worthington tried hard to have a new playing field for all kinds of sport on a large area of land on Topaz Avenue, advancing the proposal of the erection of a stadium and facilities for the holding of various branches of athletics there.

For the past two years, Alderman Worthington has been a member of the board of trustees of the Royal Oak Burial Park, one of the city's representatives on the directorate of the Victoria and Island Public Library, and a member of the court of revision on the city's assessment roll. He has been a director of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital for three successive years.

CALGARY, Nov. 15.—A protest against the influx of several thousand Mennonite immigrants, and objection to group settlements of Mennonites, Huttenrutes and Doukhobors is the gist of a wire forwarded by the Provincial Council of the Canadian Legion to the head office in Ottawa for submission to the Minister of Labor, A. Wakeley, provincial secretary, stated today. Decision to send the wire followed the return of 500 questionnaires on immigration sent to residents of all parts of Alberta. The matter will also be brought to the attention of Premier Brownlee, Mr. Wakeley stated.

JOURNEY OVER RUSSIAN ASIA TOLD VIVIDLY

Belgian Writer Tells of Experiences in Northern Manchuria and Western Half of Southern Siberia

SEVEN-DAY TRIP WEST OF HARBIN

"Manchuria, a province that was taken from China and placed under the protection of Japan, is nearly 150,000 square miles wide and has a population of 16,000,000," says a writer in Le Peuple, Brussels, Belgium. "For some weeks past, this province has kept the newspapers extremely busy. It is inhabited by the Tungus, the Buriats and many Mongolians and Chinese.

"The pure blood Manchus are in the minority in their own country. There are hardly 700,000 of them. Manchuria produces mostly wheat, sorghum and cotton. Soya, kinseng and indigo also are found there. There are huge forests of birch trees, oak and walnut trees.

"Though Mukden is the official capital of Manchuria, Harbin on the Sungari River is by far the biggest and most important town. It owes its importance to an exceptional location on the transsiberian railroad, which uses Harbin as a big cross station. We therefore passed nine hours in that big and rather Europeanized town, when we passed from Japan through Siberia to Moscow.

"We arrived there on a Saturday morning. I had passed the night in a sleeper compartment with two Chinese. In front of the station, which is large and modern, I saw a crowd of taxis which fled in all directions a few minutes after the arrival of the train, each taxi laden with travelers and baggage.

"At the station buffet, the food was excellent and relatively cheap. I got a beefsteak with French fried potatoes which would delight and satisfy any one. People seemed to talk nothing but Russian around me. A few Chinese employees spoke French and German fluently.

"For hours I strolled around the town. The town looks like a summer resort, with many villas and gardens and parks. The women there were marvelously beautiful. Most of them were Russian or half-Chinese. They seem to grow up quickly in this climate, and you saw girls running about barefoot and with long braids down their backs and dolls' faces, were as developed as women.

"I think the summer resort aspect of Harbin is essentially due to the Sungari River. Along the river are beaches, which are not as luxurious as Ostend or Deauville, but which nevertheless are charming and agreeable. The water is clear and refreshing. On the river there are many sailboats and canoes.

"The cafes and restaurants are crowded with bathers. The sunshine and a few minutes on the dry beach and dry the bathers immediately after their dip. This place is quite a centre for numerous guests throughout the summer.

"IN SIBERIA
"The night comes very late. A last trip was to take us to the Siberian frontier, on the fourth day after our departure from Tokyo. We had to travel one more day and one night through the plains. The sun had dried the plains and the train made tempests of dust as it passed.

"At each station were two red brick water towers for engines. All travelers suffered from the heat. Even my enthusiasm waned in the monotony of the steppes. The inhabitants of these plains must not think their country is very interesting, for each time our train stopped, we had the impression that the entire village had turned out to see it and considered the arrival of the "Transsiberian" a great event.

"Entertainments must be rare here indeed. Siberia and the entire North of Asia have been full of tragedy and monotony from the czar's days down to the advent of Bolshevism. It still is the country of exiles. But as I saw Siberia these days, it appears less terrible than I had imagined, probably because I saw Siberia during the three summer months—those ninety days of sunshine upon which follow nine long months of winter.

"After reaching Siberia we did not leave our train for seven days and seven nights, except at the stations where we had stops from eight to twenty-five minutes—time enough to buy food. The dining-car service which is run by a big West European company) is so expensive and so bad that even the first-class passengers prefer to get out at the stops and buy their food at the Russian sheds on the stations.

"Our passports were, of course, scrupulously and almost microscopically examined at the Siberian frontier. Our luggage was thoroughly searched.

"But my compartment, where there should have been four of us, was very fine and large. I traveled in excellent company: an American traveling companion, and a missionary from Manila, also an American. I lived with them for ten days. Long discussions made our trip more interesting.

"The cars on the Trans-Siberian

Railway have double windows, but the dust comes through just the same. So all travelers open their windows rather than suffocate in the intense heat. We left our windows open day and night.

"Up to Lake Baikal, we traveled through green plains where wild horses galloped in utter freedom on the vast prairies.

"On the day down to the lake was as quiet as I had imagined the steppes of Northern Siberia to be. I wondered at what an admirable human effort this railroad means, both from a physical and mental point of view. Every day we got nearly a thousand miles farther, and it looked to me as though we were traveling endlessly.

"But after Lake Baikal the landscape changed. We saw splendid mountain heights and we had a good look at the famous lake whose waters are so cold, even during the warmest summer, that it is impossible to swim in it. But the shores of the lake are full of verdure, with wonderful mountains.

"The landscape has a savage beauty. There are few people, and civilization is far. Now and then we passed the homes of fishermen who sat in front of their cottages. We noticed only one small steamer which, since 1904, transports people across the lake in summer. During the winter the lake is so soundly frozen that one crosses it on skates or sleighs."

MR. R. T. WILLIAMS, WHO WAS ON COUNCIL FOR SEVERAL TERMS, SEEKS ELECTION

Served Under Four Mayors During Aldermanship Term, From 1895 to 1902

Ex-Alderman Robert T. Williams has announced his intention of entering the aldermanic contest. He served under four mayors, namely, Messrs. John Teague, Charles E. Redfern, Hon. Robert Beavan and Charles Hayward, and during his previous council experience was chairman of several important committees, namely, finance, works, railways, etc. from 1895 to 1902.

Mr. Williams is opposed to any action that in any way overrides the wishes of the people, especially so in the matter of securing legislative power to pass measures over the heads of the ratepayers. He says the city should pay as it goes, and avoid increasing its present indebtedness.

Sumas Lands Agreement Set By Government

The terms of the agreement which any tenderer for the acquisition of the Sumas lands must enter into have been finally decided upon by the Minister of Agriculture, and agreed to by the Government. Tenders will be invited at a date yet to be fixed for the land, when it is the hope of the Government to dispose of the 8,700 acres of reclaimed land, which still remains in the possession of the province.

The sale of the Sumas land to a private person or corporation able to dispose of it direct to the farmers, who would utilize it in the production of crops, would come as a great relief to the Government.

Past experiences on the part of governments collecting for high-class lands has not been a marked success. There is a constant disposition on the part of the buyers to find fault with the prices charged by the Government and to agitate for relief from the accepted conditions.

This would be overcome in disposing of the land in a block when the farmers would, in turn, have a business proposition to face under the agreement entered into with the private corporation. The tenders are expected to be in by December 16.

ENGINEERS' WAGES

No Application Formally Argued Before Minimum Wage Board

The Male Minimum Wage Board had little information from the engineers with respect to their grievances in the matter of wages while sitting in Victoria. No engineers came before the board to testify. A little information was obtained by the board in an informal way from those in that line, showing that while in 1920 there had been an advance gained by the third and fourth class engineers, there had since that time been a little retrogression in point of pay.

In 1920 fourth class engineers were given 62.5 cents an hour, and third class 70 cents. The fourth

DECLINING FORESTS

In a recent issue of MacLean's Magazine, E. Newton White said: "Our system of forest exploitation as practised—disguise it by adjectives as romantic, inspiring, tremendous, enriching, as we may—swift, ruthless, destruction." This sentence is taken as the text of an editorial in The Detroit (Michigan) News, the burden of which is that Canada is bidden to face, before it is "too late," the gigantic task of regaining its consumption of softwood timber. It is only uncalculating minds that regard the remaining stands of pine, spruce and fir as inexhaustible. They are nothing of the kind, and they are disappearing rapidly every day, while whatever rate of natural increase there is lags far behind the rate of destruction.

The Detroit paper points out that Michigan's softwoods were exhausted by large-scale operations in twenty-five years, leaving the area a barren wilderness. Only now is Michigan considering reforestation, and it is described as the prime problem before the people of that state. There are increasing demands all the time on Canadian timber, chiefly because of the denudation of the supply in the United States. The article alluded to in MacLean's says that "we are cutting large quantities of immature trees that belong to our grandchildren and should be permitted to grow twenty-five to forty years longer." This is all happening because development and conservation are not going hand in hand. In no province in the Dominion is there less co-operation between the two than in British Columbia. As yet no policy of reforestation has been put into practice here, yet anyone who travels through the wooded sections of the province at intervals cannot fail to note how, through fire, through lumbering operations and through insect pests, our forests are being rapidly depleted.

There is a growing blast of criticism against the present wasteful methods employed in logging operations, against the inadequacy of forest laws, against the lack of a true and cumulative policy of conservation of our forests. The great world demand for timber is for softwood. In our softwood areas there is indiscriminate and unrestricted cutting permitted. Where the timberlands are mature the annual growth does not amount to replacement of the commodity cut because it is offset by natural decay. There are beetles, worms, caterpillars, loopers and fungi at work all the time. Nothing is being done to destroy these pests; it is not even known if they can be destroyed.

The forest industry is one of the bases of Canadian prosperity. When it is gone something else will have to take its place, but if there is any vision in statesmanship there is no reason why it should go altogether. It has gone far enough now to insure that the industry in a quarter of a century's time will be nothing like so valuable as it is today. It will have been lost in half a century, unless now, and without any loss of time, there is a policy of reforestation introduced on a far greater scale than has ever been contemplated in the country. There should be, as well, some intelligent restrictions imposed on the cutting for pulpwood and sawmill purposes. The writer in MacLean's says, in an article which has attracted continent-wide attention:

"Conservation on a practical scale involves complete cessation of exploitation of immature forests, and in the mature stands, a restriction of cut to an amount within the growth capacity of accessible forests, leaving a generous margin. It means scientific control of cutting methods to obtain natural regeneration of valuable species. It means jail terms to every fire-bug, and a change of occupation for some administrators."

AMERICAN SELF-CRITICISM

A Columbia professor, Henry Fairfield Osborn, has recently made a study of the news and advertising pages of certain representative newspapers published in New York for the purpose of ascertaining, if possible, whether the indiscriminate reading by young and old alike of publications of the yellow and tabloid types is likely to counteract much of the good influence of the better press and of the public schools. He selected for the purpose five representative daily papers, two of the so-called high-brow class, The Times and The Herald Tribune; two of the more popular and sensational class, The American and The World; and one other, The Daily News, of the tabloid variety. The sworn circulation of the five papers amounts to 2,750,000, or about half the total population of the city.

One of the first results of his survey was to show that the influence on the daily life of the people of the advertising pages must be very extensive, indeed, seeing that 43 per cent of newspaper space is given to advertising. News, domestic and foreign, comes next in point of prominence with 21 per cent. Athletics and sport occupy 16 per cent. Then follows culture (including literature, art, stage, science, invention), with 12 per cent. The remaining 7 per cent belongs to morals, under which heading are included religion on the one hand and private and political misconduct and crime on the other.

When the investigator found that fashion, clothing and their advertising took up 16.6 per cent of the newspaper space, the scientific spirit, or perhaps more curiosity, led him to look up the files of old newspapers. He found that in 1764 The Boston News Letter devoted exactly 16 per cent of its space to such matters. In 1825, however, in The Saturday Evening Post, the figure stood at 5.6 per cent, and in 1850 in The New York Tribune it stood at 3 per cent. Food, health and their advertising are fairly prominent in the newspapers of today. They were even more prominent in the past.

Further comparisons show that education occupies relatively less space in the modern newspapers under examination than at any of the periods mentioned. Crime occupies less space relatively today, and athletics and sport are more popular now than at any former period. Since 1764 it appears that interest in foreign general news and foreign politics as compared with domestic has declined. In The Boston News Letter domestic concerns absorb 65 per cent and foreign affairs 35 per cent of the news columns. A hundred years ago the proportion was 60 per cent domestic and 40 per cent foreign, and during the "fifties of last century 70 and 30 per cent, respectively. At present the figures are 36 and 14 per cent. Canadians apparently take a greater interest in world affairs than New Yorkers. In this province two of the Coast papers devote 75 per cent of their general news space to domestic and 25 per cent to foreign general news and politics.

Professor Osborn finds that his analysis does not reveal any radical change in the relative importance given to news matter in the past century and a half, that while one topic or another gained prestige in a certain period the general trend is the same. His chief concern is with the far-reaching effect of the tabloid press upon public education. It appears that there are three publications of this class in New York with a combined daily circulation of 2,000,000, or 42 per cent of the total metropolitan circulation. This brings the figure to 62 per cent of the grand total. In his indictment of the tabloid press he states that it is "a demoralizing force," that it "tends to destroy all the finer creative powers of the mind, establishes an entirely false standard for human endeavor and gives a distorted perspective of current life." On the intellectual side, and quite apart from its moral or immoral influence, he pronounces the tabloid press to be dangerous to young minds in that jumping abruptly "from subject to subject, from sensation to sensation, from crime to crime, from emotion to emotion," the mind is so disturbed and rocked to and fro that the power of sustained concentration is impaired, and even totally lost.

Discussion on the attitude of London and Washington towards Japan's claims in regard to cruiser strength suggests that Great Britain is willing to agree to Japan's desire for a 70 per cent eight-inch-gun cruiser ratio, but that Japan will have to be content with a 60 per cent ratio where the United States is concerned. There was supposed to have been an agreement reached for "parity" as between the United States and Great Britain, but "parity" apparently does not mean equality. If it did, then any proposal for Japan's ratio in cruiser strength would be identical as they affect Great Britain and the United States.

The inequity of income tax lies in the fact, as an estimate shows, that only two persons in every hundred in the Dominion pay it. In other words, 98 per cent of the people pay no income tax at all. It is direct taxation and by some described as the fairest of all kinds of levies. There is something radically wrong somewhere about a tax which only 2 per cent of the population pays.

LAUGH AND BE MERRY

Laugh and be merry! Remember, better the world with a song.
Better the world with a blow in the teeth of a wrong.
Laugh, for the time is brief, a thread the length of a span.
Laugh, and be proud to belong to the old proud pageant of man.

Laugh and be merry! Remember, in olden time,
God made Heaven and Earth for joy; He took in a rhyme.
Made them, and filled them full with the strong red wine of His mirth.
The splendid joy of the stars; the joy of the earth.
So we must laugh and drink from the deep blue cup of the sky.
Join the jubilant song of the great stars sweeping by.
Laugh, and battle, and work, and drink of the wine outpoured
In the dear green earth, the sign of the joy of the Lord.

Laugh and be merry together, like brothers akin.
Questing awhile in the rooms of a beautiful inn.
Glad till the dancing stops, and the lilt of the music ends.
Laugh till the game is played; and be you merry, my friends.

—John Macfield.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Here is another letter, and from a mere man:

Dear R.B.D.—Just a line to say how very much I always appreciate your daily column. I doubt if I have ever missed one—bar the ones you missed. In Friday's issue you wrote: "If we are silly enough to elect idealists to rule over us, we must accept the consequences of our folly." Meaning, of course, old Mac and his bunch. But were they elected? If you delve down into election statistics you will find that the Conservatives had quite a majority of votes over the Socialists, something like 330,000. Under P.R. the election might have been much different. Anyway, the Laborites only voted a little over eight million votes out of an electorate of twenty-nine millions. In an ordinary meeting, eight persons endeavoring to lay down the law of an assembly of twenty-nine persons would be laughed out of court. If they persisted, and provided there were no ladies in the meeting, they would go outside on their ear, say the left one. They will do just that anyway, and soon.

Yours sincerely,

WALTER FOSTER.

The facts stated by Mr. Foster may be unassailable, but the real fact is that a Socialist Government is in power in Great Britain and the disturbing fact is that it may be a considerable time before the Government is thrown out, on either its right or its left ear. The Conservatives cannot throw the Government out. The Liberals will not unite with the Conservatives in throwing the Government out, for they have no chance of getting in. If they threw the Government out they might put a Conservative Government in, and they would rather see a Socialist Government than a Conservative Government in.

Such is the situation in Parliament, and the situation outside Parliament is not materially different from the situation inside of Parliament. The leader of the Liberals in Parliament has said that as far as his following is concerned the Government will be given plenty of rope and an opportunity to hang itself in the coils of the rope when it goes too far in the direction of "Socialism in our time." But in the meantime the rope is tight and Liberal after Liberal is renouncing the political principles of the party and announcing that in future he will support the political and economic principles of the Government Party. Just about the time when Mr. David Lloyd George has made up his mind to pull the rope, tighten the coils and strangle the Government, there may be so few Liberals behind him that the party will not be strong enough to pull the rope tight enough to hang the Government.

Mr. Foster, being a student of political events, doubtless has read the political history of his country. He knows that the Whigs were the fathers of the Liberals and that the Liberals have swallowed and assimilated the Whigs. The last remaining Whig periodical, The Edinburgh Review, died recently at the ripe old age of about one hundred and twenty-five years. It may be the fate of the Liberal Party to be swallowed and assimilated by the Socialist Party just as the Whig Party was swallowed and assimilated by the Liberal Party. In the course of a very few years Liberals may be as scarce in Great Britain as Whigs are today.

There may not be a great deal of sustenance left in the remains of the British Liberal Party after Mr. Lloyd George has led it through the wilderness, with no prospect whatever of leading it into the promised land of office, but the added nourishment may be sufficient to so strengthen the Socialist Party that it will be strong enough to encounter and overcome the Conservative Party in its present partially paralyzed state.

Great Britain at the present time is in a position very similar to the position of Italy. It is under a political dictatorship. The only difference that we can see between Great Britain and Italy is that Italy is under the political dictatorship of one man, which is an advantage, while Great Britain is under the political dictatorship of two men (one of them a Canadian), which is a disadvantage. The Lords Rothermere and Beaverbrook assumed that because they controlled a number of the leading newspapers of the country that they could dictate to Mr. Baldwin, the leader of the late Conservative Government. Mr. Baldwin refused to acknowledge the dictatorship and the controller-ship, and the dictators decided to cut off his head. The dictators did not succeed in deposing Mr. Baldwin from the Conservative leadership, but they did succeed in turning the Conservative Government out and putting the Socialist Government in.

The British political dictators may not be completely satisfied with the result of their work, for they must realize the possibly mischievous results of that work. They may find out that it will be hard to undo what they have done. The Socialist Government is in power, and it is "digging itself in." It is in possession of the citadel and it is taking possession of all the outworks. It is capturing all the municipalities, or boroughs. The big purse of the nation is in its hands, and the strings of all the little purses are in its grip. It is filling the big purse by increased taxation. It will follow the same purses by similar measures, and it will literally "spend the money like a drunken sailor." The people of the country will live gloriously for a time upon the accumulated fat of the industry of past years. Then, like the bear which sleeps through the winter, they will wake up, lean and hungry, and not in the best of temper. The country may be saved, but apparently it will not be saved through the agency of either of the orthodox political parties. It can be saved only by divisions and dissensions in the Socialist Party.

YOUNG FOLK HEAR THEIR PRESIDENT

Dominion Head Addresses Anglican Young People's Association on Organization

During the week Mr. George Pihler, president for the Dominion of the Anglican Young People's Association, spent two days in Victoria and while here addressed two meetings of the members of the five branches in Greater Victoria. The first meeting addressed by Mr. Pihler comprised members of the local clergy and A.Y.P.A. Local Council. This meeting was held in St. Mary's Parish Church Hall and round table conference on young people's work. The visitor spoke on the relations of the A.Y.P.A. to the church and suggested methods necessary to strengthen the relationship. The importance of a well-organized local council was stressed.

The second meeting was on Thursday evening, a well attended and enthusiastic party of Anglican young people taking place at St. Barnabas' Sunday School, the theme of Mr. Pihler's address being a challenge to the young people of Canada. The A.Y.P.A. had accepted the challenge with its four-fold programme of worship, work, fellowship and education. He pointed out the enthusiasm of this organization were taking their places among the prominent citizens of the country, a proof that the organization was furthering progress in church and community.

Following the address, there was a discussion on the best methods to adopt in building up a successful branch organization. Such subjects as leadership, training, willingness to serve and a keener interest in church and Sunday school work receiving the earnest attention of the members present.

Rt. Rev. C. de V. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, and patron of the local A.Y.P.A., added words of encouragement, assuring the young people that he was keenly interested in their problems and wholeheartedly behind them in their work. At the close of the conference, refreshments were served under the direction of the St. Barnabas Branch.

Mr. Pihler left Victoria yesterday morning for Nanaimo where, in the interests of the A.Y.P.A., he was to address a gathering of young people. His tour is doing much to strengthen the association and a closer co-operation between the branches east and west is anticipated as a result.

CANADA SHUT OUT BY DUTY ON CREAM

Proposed U.S. Import on Dairy Products Strikes Hard Blow at Industries of Farmers

OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—If the import of 55.6 cents on cream becomes law in the United States, Canada will be shut out of that market. This was the comment made by Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, when apprised that this figure had been approved by the United States Senate.

"The only hope," he said, "is that the House of Representatives, and the Senate will never reach an agreement, and that these duties will never come into force."

The present duty of thirty cents is about as high as the Canadian exporter can stand. It was explained. At some seasons a duty of forty cents might be borne, but no higher. The tariff of fourteen cents on butter, approved in both houses, was also a shutout figure.

The importance of this trade to Canada is shown in the fact that cream exports to the United States in the fiscal year, ending March 31, 1929, were $5,228,499. In the preceding twelve months the total was $7,118,254. It had grown to this amount from $1,122,424 in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920.

FREE LUMBER

Decision of the United States Senate to retain on the free list maple, birch and beech lumber and flooring therefrom, is received with satisfaction by Canadian lumbermen, although hard woods do not represent a large proportion of the timber cut in this country.

In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929, exports of birch planks and boards were valued at $2,596,934. Maple was less important with a figure of $608,681, while beech exports were negligible.

While the proposed duty of 15 per cent would have an adverse effect, lumbermen explain that trade in these items is unlikely to achieve any great importance. Hard woods are more expensive to cut and transport, and only represent about 5 per cent of the timber taken out of Canadian forests.

HUMMING BIRDS IN NOVEMBER

Str.—To exemplify the mildness of the climate at this time of the year in and around the city of Victoria and the southern portion of Vancouver Island in general, I would like to bring to your notice for the benefit of those who are interested in migratory birds an incident.

Yesterday I saw two humming birds (ruby breasted), a male and a female.

Having for many years taken notes and kept records for biological purposes of the coming and departing of migratory birds, I find, by looking up my records, that October 13 is the latest date of my observing the humming bird previous to this particular occasion. If there are any persons living in Victoria who have seen them on a later date, I would appreciate the information.

THE MACDONALD GOVERNMENT

Str.—The thanks of our Empire are due to Messrs. F. J. Bourne and Spencer Percival for consistently stating trenchant facts re the Ramsay MacDonald Government, and recording in print what may thousands of our best citizens are thinking today, in your issues of the 9th and 13th, respectively.

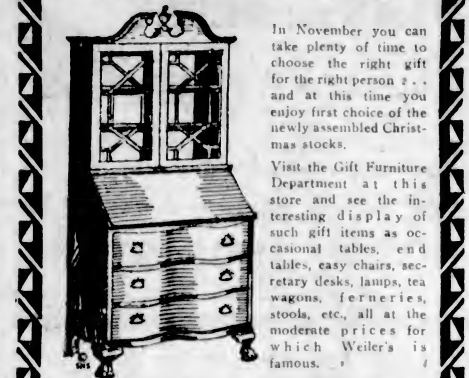

One salient fact is that whilst the Kaiser created a world-wide commotion by regarding his signature to the Belgian treaty as a "scrap of paper," our Premier, Ramsay MacDonald, stood out for the same action on the part of the British nation, namely, to dishonor or plunge Great Britain into infamy for all time. When he made his speech in the Reichstag not long ago, as mentioned in Mr. Spencer Percival's letter, one of the leading German statesmen, in reply, lauded him (Ramsay) to the skies "as having done his best to prevent England getting into the war," or to put it quite plainly, in having proved a valuable ally to Germany and consequently a foe to Belgium and France (also to his own country, Loosdomm included). Fortunately, Premier Asquith was at the helm, and being a honorable man, he delivered his ultimatum that the first German soldier setting foot in Belgium would automatically bring the treaty into effect, as a declaration of war.

As to Lloyd George, we must give him full credit for bringing the nation through the war successfully, when no other man was apparently available, and he did the work well, as did Clemenceau in France; but once that special duty was performed, Lloyd George has degenerated into the political class and is no longer an asset to the Empire. Far from it.

Both your correspondents have so fully covered Ramsay's tomfoolery and humiliation parade to the United States that America that there is not much to add, except that the offer to dismantle our Bermuda defences was not met by a similar offer to do the same with the Panama Canal fortifications. It may be noted—a man for giving everything away and getting nothing but contempt in return—all in the supposed interests of a visionary "peace at any price."

Then the Singapore dock, one of our main keynotes in the Empire for the navy, either in peace or wartime, held up again, after expenditure of millions, for what? Just as if a neighbor came to us and said: "I don't like the look of your fleet; they might give me a black eye if we quarrelled some day." All right, we reply, dear friend, in the interests of peace between us, our hands shall be amputated today. This is a perfectly apt illustration of what the Ramsay MacDonald Government is doing in China, India, Egypt and all parts of the world where our statesmen have been Empire building for past centuries; slow, tedious work building, but quick, easy work to destroy. Imperialists all of them; look at the hand-picked lot in the

DATA WANTED ON FINANCES OF COMPANIES

Taxi Operating Concerns Will Be Asked to Submit Information Relative to Status

WAGE BOARD ENDS SESSION

The taxi companies in the city will be asked by the Wage Board to submit information relative to the finances of the companies operated by them, as a basis upon which they may proceed with the task of arriving at what the relation of the services rendered by the employees, being the taxi drivers, to the value of the services rendered. It is likely that the last balance sheet of the companies will be asked for by the board.

This was decided upon before the sittings concluded here yesterday. The board will next sit in Nanaimo. It is possible that later in the year another sitting may be held here, if there are any pressing matters to bring before the body.

No witnesses came before the board either yesterday afternoon or in the evening.

It was set out by the witnesses for the companies that for four months the operations were carried on at a profit; for four months they ran at a loss, and for another four there was an even break.

The life of a car was estimated at five years, so that depreciation was high. Wages represented from 25 to 30 per cent, while one operator pointed out that in October of this year the wages represented 45 per cent of the receipts.

At the forenoon sitting of the board evidence was given by Mr. R. Gibbons, chairman of the Chauffeurs' Union in the city. He took the ground that if the Motor Vehicle Act were enforced, it would in large measure remove the loss. It would do away with the price cutting, and there would not be the trouble from companies cutting the rates.

Mr. Gibbons said that he had protested to the city police, but the reply was that they could do nothing unless furnished with the names of drivers without licences, operating. He advised the placing of the onus on the employer with respect to using unlicensed drivers.

The information was given the board at the morning sitting that in Vancouver the Yellow Cab Company allowed the drivers 30 per cent of the collections for the first month. Following that the allowance was $1.25 a day, or 30 per cent of the earnings, whichever was the greater.

There was a great deal of evidence heard similar to that given the day before at the sitting.

Attends Galli-Curci Concert in Vancouver

Among the Victorians who went to Vancouver to hear Galli-Curci in her recital there on Wednesday evening was Mrs. J. O. Cameron, who writes of the famous singer that "her voice is better than ever." She especially comments on two of the prima donna's numbers, "At the Edge of the Sea" (Dobson), and the famous "Shadow Song" from Meyerbeer's "Dinorah." As encores, it is interesting to learn, Galli-Curci sang the simple old favorites, "Love's Old Sweet Song," "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Home, Sweet Home."

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Cameron was the guest of the Women's Musical Club of Vancouver at their students' recital, and yesterday afternoon attended a coming-out tea given by Mrs. Cornish at the Jericho Country Club for her daughter.

Driver Fined

Stanley Palmer, who pleaded guilty in the city police court yesterday morning to a charge of driving to the common danger, was fined $10. The charge was laid as the result of a collision between two automobiles on Courtney Street on November 4.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugist. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, then fill it with plain granulated sugar (or strained honey). The 16 ounces thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germs, relieves inflammation, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a high concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of cressonite, a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchitis.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Appreciation of Motor Stage Transportation on Vancouver Island

A contributor sends the following appreciation of the stages of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines:

THE CAMPERS' NEW TIMEPIECE

The campers' clocks hung on the wall, but were they needed there at all? When coaches kept such perfect time. What use were clocks with peeling chimes?

Once a clock in the corner hung, but the pendulum swung so slowly. The screws were all loose, the hands were too slow. The mainspring was broken and the wheels would not go.

Now the campers' new timepiece is a V.I. coach. And when we hear that stage approach. We know just exactly the time of the hour. And need no other clock to chime in the tower.

Its glass is not cracked, and it shines brighter too. The hands work more willingly like proper clocks do. The wheels run much better, well oiled are they. The mainspring is dandy, and the rest are O.K.

The screws are all tight like they ought to be. That's why our coach timepiece runs so well, you see. It beats all the clocks with their pealing chime. 'Tis V.I. Coach Lines' Standard Time!

SHAREHOLDERS TO VOTE ON MERGER

Directors of Guaranty Savings & Loan and of Intermountain Decide to Unite

The shareholders of the Guaranty Savings & Loan Association and the Intermountain Building & Loan Association of Canada, will be asked to vote upon a resolution authorizing a merger of the two associations at a meeting to be held on November 28.

Such was the decision reached at a meeting of the board of directors of each institution held yesterday to George S. Harrison, managing director of the Guaranty Savings & Loan Association, and R. Bruce Abel, president of the Intermountain Building & Loan Association of Canada, Vancouver, B.C.

The Guaranty Savings & Loan Association is directed by the following local men: W. C. Shelly, George S. Harrison, Fred Croner, George A. Walker, H. Leggat, Newton J. Ker, W. S. Burley and W. C. Dilmars, and the Intermountain Building & Loan Association of Canada by R. Bruce Abel, Dr. R. C. Boyle, C. L. H. Branson, James A. Frith, R. Rowe Holland and M. B. King.

The board of directors of the merged association will be composed of various members of the boards of the present associations. Both the Intermountain and the Guaranty are subject to the provisions of the Savings & Loan Associations' Act, and as a consequence it was necessary to secure the approval of the Provincial Government to the proposed merger, which approval, according to Mr. Harrison and Mr. Abel, has been secured.

The merger, if ratified by the shareholders, will be consummated early next month.

Holy Trinity, Sooke, W. A.

The regular meeting of the W. A. of the Holy Trinity Church was held at the home of Mrs. G. Throp on Wednesday afternoon with an attendance of eleven members. The financial account was given by the secretary. The sum of $50 will be given to the warden for church expenses and $5 to the pledge fund. The officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. P. Snape; vice-president, Mrs. J. S. Muir; secretary, Mrs. J. C. Cooke. It was decided to hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Snape, to arrange for a social evening to be held in Sooke Hall early in December. Those present were Mesdames Cooke, Stacey, Locke, Sutherland, Muir, Throp, Snape, McBride, Misses O. Sutherland and V. Willett and Rev. H. M. Bolton. Mrs. Snape and Miss Willett assisted the hostess in pouring tea.

St. John's Junior W. A.

The Junior branch of St. John's W. A. held its annual sale of work on Thursday evening in the schoolroom. The sale was opened by Mrs. Chrow, organizing secretary of the Diocesan W. A., who congratulated St. John's branch on the success it had attained. Rev. Canon Chadwick presided at a most enjoyable programme during the evening and expressed his great pleasure in the work being carried on by this branch of the auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. Alfred Hallam, and congratulated all who had taken part in the sale of work and the programme. One of the most delightful features of the very excellent programme was the singing of the auxiliary hymn, "We Are But a Band of Children," by all the members of the branch.

Scouts' Auxiliary.

A very successful tea was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Dawe, by the ladies of the Scouts' Auxiliary, Nanaimo. Bronze chrysanthemums and marigolds were used in decorating. Mrs. A. E. Plante and Mrs. Saunders presided at the daintily-appointed tea table. Mrs. Corfield acted as cashier, and Master Tommy Dawe opened the door. The musical programme was enjoyed very much, those contributing being Mrs. Seale, Mrs. L. Jones, Mrs. Ross, Miss Summerville and Miss Humphreys. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lague, Mrs. Nicholls, Mrs. Holmworth and Miss Phyllis Dawe. The winners of the drawing were Mrs. Partington and Mrs. R. T. Wilson.

Fellowship Club.

A card party was held by the Fellowship Club at the home of Mrs. C. G. Graves, Cloverdale Avenue for the benefit of the two wards of aged and infirm patients in the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The prizes were won as follows: Ladies, first, Mrs. W. Hall; second, Mrs. Malloves; third, Mrs. C. Sivertz. Gentlemen, first, Mr. Tom Panthorpe; second, Mr. Gilchrist; third, Mr. Wakem. The cake donated by Mr. Burley, Home Bakery, was won by Miss Badger. Their next monthly tea and entertainment for the ward will be held at the hospital on Tuesday, November 26.

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter.

The Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., met on Tuesday at the home of the regent, Mrs. W. Ellis, Beach Drive. Plans were made for a sale of home cooking to be held in December. The total receipts for the chapter's table day for the milk fund amounted to $507.35, and the chapter expresses its thanks to all who so generously assisted. The sum of $33 was collected from the chapter's milk cans which are placed in a number of the city stores. Miss Brown, Minto Street, offered her home for the next meeting.

I.O.D.E. Wreath Placed On London Cenotaph

The monthly meeting of the national executive committee of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire was held on Wednesday, November 6, at the headquarters of the order in Toronto, with Mrs. John A. Stewart, national president, in the chair. In addition to the regular business of the order, a wreath of Toronto members, there were four members present from out of town: Miss W. Gordon, of Kingston; Mrs. H. S. Griffin and Mrs. Morrison, of Hamilton; and Mrs. Detwiler, of London.

Arrangements were made for the observance of Armistice Day, in conjunction with the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, representing the order in London, England, placed a wreath on the cenotaph there, and Mrs. Jones, first vice-president of the order, placed a wreath on the cenotaph in Toronto.

It was reported that five new chapters had been added to the order, one in New Brunswick, two in Ontario and two in Saskatchewan.

A message of sympathy was sent by the committee to the family of the late Earl of Meath, who played so important a part in promoting the Empire Day movement throughout the British Empire.

It was announced that the Department of Trade and Commerce had presented a colored photograph of the painting of Mrs. Clark Murray, founder of the order, which hangs in the Archives Building in Ottawa, to the order, and that a replica of this portrait were also to be presented by the department to each provincial chapter of the order.

Mrs. Baigent and her infant son, who have been visiting Rev. E. M. and Mrs. Cook, returned to their home in Vancouver on Thursday.

A very successful sale of work was held on Wednesday evening in the old Recreation Hall by the Women's Auxiliary to the Church of St. Michael's and All Angels. Following is a list of the stalls and stallholders: Tea and coffee, Mrs. Walter Porter, Mrs. A. E. P. Stubbs, Mrs. J. P. Chubb and Mrs. Chubb; ringlets; work stall, Mrs. N. F. Lang, Miss E. Gloves Borrow Fall Tones

Pink suede is combined with brown and red leather. Pink suede with a darker shade at the cuff and a brown contrast. Beige trim, the beige suede glove with the cut-out cuff. Gauntlet of beige suede can be changed to a cuff glove by turning the orange facing back. Doekin gauntlet has lemon facing. Grey glass kid is trimmed with red and blue in slip-on.

GLOVES have their definite worth in the ensemble, and very often are most effective when used as a single note of contrast. Possibly with this idea paramount, the new Fall gloves are being shown in a variety of colors, as well as the street shades which have been popular for so long.

In most cases the colored glove shows a definite Autumn leaning. For instance, a touch of brown will be added to a pastel shade, or red will be added to the less colorful tints. Needless to say, all this color will lend a great deal of charm to even the most staid of ensembles, and the use of bright gloves for just that effect is looked upon favorably.

Starting at the top centre and going in a circle to the right, we see first a modernistic gauntlet. The choice of leather, powder-pink ser; candle lighting, Mr. J. H. Inglis; killing the cats, Mr. C. G. Pritchard. A beautiful cake, donated by Mrs. Gustafson, was won by Mr. Rice, a box of apples was won by Mrs. Fred Clarke, Mr. E. M. Ankettell-Jones won a casserole; Mr. Robinson was the winner of a buffet set, as was also Mrs. D. Bonde. Mrs. Russell Robinson held the winning ticket for a box of candies. Master Eric Knight was the winner of the boys' candle-lighting contest. Lighted twenty-two out of twenty-four candles. The glove on the left, Miss Phyllis French won the ladies' prize with ten out of twenty-four. At the conclusion of the evening Mr. Robinson auctioned off all the cakes remaining from the tea, bringing the proceeds up to $144.80, with probably a little more to be added from other sources.

Pioneers Hold Annual Ball

The annual ball of the Saanich Pioneer Society was held at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, last night. Many old-timers were present and danced old-fashioned dances, lancers, polkas and quadrilles. Mr. J. Broke's old-time orchestra supplied the music and a number of the guests appeared in historic pioneer dress.

Much difficulty was experienced by the judges in selecting the best from so many, but the prize for the best lady's costume was awarded to Miss Betty Turgoose, and for the gentleman's to Mr. G. Mitchell. Mr. K. Lidgate acted as floor manager. The hall was decorated with bunting and streamers. The supper table was decorated with chrysanthemums.

Major Macdonald, Mrs. H. E. Tanner and Mrs. M. McKay acted as judges.

Lieutenant-Governor Present at Recital

Hon. R. Randolph and Miss Mackenzie, accompanied by Captain W. H. Molson, Miss Urquhart, and a party from Government House were among those present at the Stanley Macted and Mary Frances James recital at the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening, and yesterday His Honor gave a luncheon party at Government House for the visiting artists. Major Macted left for New York on the afternoon boat yesterday, and Miss Gwendolyn Williams, who was here as accompanist with the recitalists, will leave today for the same destination.

Dean Gives Address

An address on "The Humor of the Bible," by Very Rev. C. S. Quinton, dean of Columbia, was the entertainment provided for the meeting on Thursday afternoon at the First United Church. The attendance exceeded that at any previous meeting and the occasion was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Watson, the president, was in the chair, and Mrs. Johns added to the pleasure of the afternoon by her vocal solo.

SAANICH BALL TO BE LARGE AFFAIR

Record Crowd Expected to Attend Tenth Annual Dance of Saanich Police on November 29

All roads will be leading to the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, on Friday night, November 29. On that evening the Saanich police will hold their tenth annual ball under the auspices of the Saanich Police Commission. According to the advance sale of tickets, last year's record crowd will be broken.

An efficient orchestra will be in attendance and dancing will take place from 9 o'clock until 2 a.m. Miss Helen Elliott is secretary of the dance committee, while Mr. Wilfred Green will act as master of ceremonies. The catering will be in the hands of the West Saanich Women's Institute.

People requiring tickets are asked to secure them from the various members of the Saanich Police Commission as soon as possible. According to Chief Allan Rankin, one of the largest, if not the largest, crowd in the history of the dances is expected to attend.

ANNUAL DANCE IS MOST SUCCESSFUL

British Public Schools Club Ball at Empress Hotel is Outstanding Event

Last night the British Public Schools Club held its annual dance in the Empress Hotel, when close upon three hundred people were in attendance.

Those in charge of the arrangements were Mr. W. Downes, chairman of the entertainment committee, Mr. C. G. Cooper, Capt. Hugh Allan and Mr. J. G. Johnson. Supper was served in the dining-room of the hotel and a six-piece orchestra supplied the music.

Dancing was continued until a late hour, and among those who attended were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Unsworth, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Darnell, Mr. and Mrs. Scotty, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Capt. and Mrs. A. T. B. Laybourn, Capt. and Mrs. F. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Nation, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. F. Saxton, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Cooper, Capt. and Mrs. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dick, Capt. and Mrs. G. Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. W. Downes, Capt. and Mrs. H.

Beige suede is repeated in the model at the bottom. The glove may be worn as a mild gauntlet, or the bright facing in orange kid with white dots may be turned over for a cuff as is shown. The orange and white is repeated in the embroidery.

The doekin gauntlet is faced also. Lemon yellow is visible through the shaded opening. The glove on the outside is a demure grey. The same style glove was seen in black and yellow.

The slip-on above with the modernistic flare is fashioned of grey glass kid. The applique piece at the side is of rose and blue, which color scheme is repeated in the embroidery.

Two stylishly-dressed ladies were visiting the lower East Side, New York City, in an attempt to find out "how the other half lives." They noticed a youngster sitting on a curb holding an apple. He had reached the age where he was minus both his upper and lower front teeth and he sat looking rather disconsolately at the two ladies, his expression changed. He jumped up and came toward the ladies, holding out the apple in the direction of one of them.

"Lady, will you start this for me?" he asked with toothless but smiling confidence.

Rhoda, A Red-Headed Girl

by Henry Mitchell Webster

CHAPTER XII

Martin said to his chauffeur, "That's the man I want, and I think I know where he's going, but I can't be sure enough to risk it. Follow him, will you?"

It made him feel frightfully cheap to give an order like that. But the heroic alternative offered no chance at all of success. Any attempt of his to get the trunk away from Max by force would look to both witnesses—his own chauffeur as well as Max's—like an unprovoked assault on a law-abiding citizen.

He could think of nothing better than to tag along, make sure where the trunk went and try to invent some way of bluffing this pair of conspirators out of their booty up in Claire's flat after she'd joined Max there. He had the ingredients for a pretty good bluff. He was convinced now that he had stolen Rhoda's three hundred dollars the day before and that Claire knew nothing about it.

Automatically, of course, he'd been watching the other taxi. Now, as they approached the drive, he was astonished to see it turn south instead of north; downtown instead of up. "That wasn't the taxi," he thought. "That was the chauffeur's. Yet her instructions to Max had been explicit that he take it there. Was Max starting something on his own account, betraying his ally, or had he observed that he was being followed and was trying to throw off pursuit?"

Keeping another car in sight in the flood of traffic on the boulevard with its four lanes each way and its stop lights isn't an easy thing to do. Martin noted with satisfaction that his chauffeur was clever at it, a little way in, on the game.

"I'm a reporter," he told him, "and that chap with the trunk is a peach of a story if I can get it. He isn't going where I thought he would, though."

"Probably going to one of the depots, isn't he, with that trunk?" the chauffeur suggested.

"I believe you're right," Martin agreed. "If he is, the story is even better. But I've got to find out where he's going."

Their quarry showed no signs of consciousness that it was being followed. It pulled into a low lane at Jackson Boulevard and turned west. It crossed Dearborn Street, eliminating the Polk Street Station and La Salle, where it would have turned for the New York Central.

"It will be the Union if it's anything," said Martin's chauffeur.

"Where will he go with that trunk if he wants to check it?" Martin asked.

"It depends on whether he's got his ticket," the chauffeur told him. "If he hasn't, he'll stop and get it half way down the ramp. If he has, he'll go all the way down to the lower level."

Evidently Max hadn't his ticket, for his taxi stopped half way down, pulling up a little beyond the entrance to the concourse. But the person who left the cab to buy the ticket was the chauffeur. Max apparently didn't want to leave his precious trunk until it was safely checked.

His caution simplified things a bit for Martin. He slipped out of his cab and followed the other chauffeur boldly up to the ticket window and stood at his elbow while the man bought a ticket and a lower berth, the number of which Martin noted to New York on the Pennsylvania Limited that afternoon.

In order not to give himself away, he paused at the window himself long enough to ask when the next train went to Milwaukee and returned as inconspicuously as he could to his own taxi. The other cab had already started down the ramp.

At a safe distance Martin followed and saw Rhoda's little hat trunk checked, saw Max drive away—unchecked, confound him—with no doubt, what was left of her three hundred dollars in his pocket. Those identical twenty dollar bills that Martin had seen paid for the ticket had been very likely a part of the hoard in her bureau drawer. And he had stood looking on and not done a mortal thing. Well, what could he have done? What could he do now?

One thing he'd better do without loss of time was to pay off his own taxi while he could. He'd left the paper, in his haste this noon, without stopping to get some money that he needed. After he'd paid the driver a dollar he couldn't figure, do less after taking the man's name on the chance he'd need him as a witness. He had just sixty cents left.

The obvious duty before him was to telephone Rhoda at the studio and tell her what he had seen happen; tell her, in brief, that he'd watched Max Lewis steal her trunk and check it for New York at the Union Station.

She wouldn't ask him what he'd been doing all the while, but the question would be in her mind all the same. She might ask him what she could do about it.

The only plan in his mind up to now was that they go around together to the city hall and swear out a warrant for Lewis' arrest along with a writ of replevin for the trunk and then be on hand with a plain clothes man when Lewis came to the station to take the train. There was time enough for that, and it would be easy enough, except for the one fact that Rhoda herself would veto the plan.

Lived for 74 Years in House Built for Bride

Rather than do anything that would involve bringing up the past she'd stand the loss of her little trunk just as she'd wanted to stand the loss of her three hundred dollars. And this precious pair of crooks, Claire and Max, probably knew it and were banking on their immunity.

The only way to get the better of them would be by a use of their own sort of methods. Steal the trunk back. If he were any good at all, he could think up some way of doing that.

He considered various ways of accomplishing this crime—all of them obviously predestined failures. It wouldn't be necessary, though, to steal the trunk itself. If he could get into the baggage-room and steal the check off the trunk it wouldn't go to New York with Max and Rhoda could come round with the key and identify it.

Or, if he were only an accomplished pickpocket, he could steal Max's duplicate of the check. Or, if he knew a reliable professional pickpocket whom he could hire for the job. . . . This sort of nonsense was getting him nowhere. Couldn't he think of something that would work?

Martin's abstraction grew deeper. He shook himself a good deal the way a dog does, looked at his watch, and went to the nearest drug store to telephone to Claire.

ESCAPED GIRLS IN HANDS OF POLICE

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 15.—Six of the girls who escaped from the detention hospital at Seattle police headquarters last night, were arrested in a lodging-house here today.

The girls, who liberated themselves after tying Miss B. Barnes, a nurse, to a cot, told Centralia police that ten girls escaped instead of eight as was reported by Seattle police.

JOSHUA and Mary Anderson, aged 103 and ninety-four, who still reside in the original home built for the blushing bride in 1855, near Stirling, Ont., observed their seventy-fourth wedding anniversary recently. The photographs here show the old couple, their home and some of the members of their family: 1, Mrs. W. F. Hanna, aged seventy, of Stirling, daughter of Mr. Anderson; 2, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Anderson, aged 103 and ninety-four, respectively, as seen recently at their home on Anderson Island, six miles west of Stirling; 3, Muriel Gibson, aged four, the Anderson couple's great-granddaughter; 4, view of the Anderson home, and 5, Mrs. Percy Gibson, great-granddaughter.

CAPITOL The role of "Hurricane" Kane, "bush" league ball player who makes good in the big leagues in the Paramount picture "Fast Company" is played by the foremost smart-cracking comedian on the talking screen, Jack Oakie. The picture comes to a close today at the Capitol Theatre. It is the first baseball comedy romance to be brought to the talking screen.

COLISEUM Don't miss seeing Theatre "Verdun," the great war epic now being shown at the Coliseum Theatre. It was filmed on the battlefields and in the forts of Verdun and is a story crammed full of realism, drama and humor. English newspapers have pronounced it the greatest war epic ever filmed.

PLAYHOUSE You can still catch Theatre "Broadway Fever" if you hurry. Today that amusing comedy-drama is playing for the last times at the Playhouse Theatre, where Sally O'Neill, Roland Drew and Corliss Palmer, in the principal roles, have been attracting enthusiastic crowds.

COLUMBIA "Blockade," showing at the Columbia Theatre for last times today, which presents many breathtaking scenes made at sea, with battling crews on ships side by side and machine guns and one-pounders firing upon them from Government vessels, brings new laurels to Director George B. Seitz, who has already won fame in the making of sea pictures, notably "Blood Ship."

Oldest Fairy Tales Make Merry Theme For Pantomime

When the clever principals and gorgeously gowned beauties of Philip Rodway's famous pantomime company present "Mother Goose" at the Royal Theatre for the last times today, matinee and night, they will offer to local theatregoers a story that has been popular for many years. Modernized and smartened for this tour, it has never been so well presented, and will stand as one of the finest offerings from the Old Country to tour the Dominion.

Epic Story of World War Told on Stage at Royal November 18

"Journey's End," the sensational war play by R. C. Sherriff, will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 18, 19 and 20, with a matinee Wednesday. "Journey's End" is perhaps a tragedy, but true to the life it depicts, it has many moods. In life, tragedy never comes unadorned as it does in the cheaper melodramas; it is strangely mingled with laughter and calm. It is the same with "Journey's End." It has more laughs packed amidst its intensity been drawn by playwright Sherriff from an actual former comrade of his own war days. Consequently the characters of the play live and breathe for us, and we enter into their very minds and hearts. From the war-torn, pitiful young company commander, Stanhope, to Mason, the Cockney cook, we recognize friends and acquaintances of our own, and so are able doubly to sympathize with them.

DEPERE PILES UP ON COAST

Steamship Sends Out SOS and Is Later Beached at Port McArthur, South- eastern Alaska

EXTENT OF DAMAGE IS NOT YET KNOWN

SEATTLE, Nov. 15.—The freighter Depere, owned by the Alaska Steamship Company, struck a rock about 8 o'clock tonight and was later beached at Port McArthur, Southeastern Alaska, the Seattle harbor radio station reported tonight.

The Depere is a steel ship 320 feet long, 46-foot beam and with a draught of 24.4 feet. She was built in the D. D. Hanlon yard in Oakland, in 1920. Early reports did not give any details as to the condition of the ship after her crash.

An SG-1 transmitted by the Deperre was picked up by the Gonzales Hill wireless station at 8:40 o'clock last evening. The ship gave her position as 52:02 N., 143:05 W. Heavy interference from ships and coast stations made reception of signals difficult.

The Deperre struck near Cape Deception, on the southern tip of Kulus Island, about eighty-five miles southeast of Siska, which is on an island. The ship was in command of Captain John Newland. Details were lacking as to how many were in her crew. She did not carry passengers. It was reported,

FRENCH LINE IS NOW OLD COMPANY

Founded Early in 1855 Under Name

under the name of Compagnie Generale Maritime, the French Line at present has 100 steamers of 750,000 tons. Originally its endeavors were confined to deep-sea fishing off the Newfoundland Banks and coastal services between France, Belgium,

On August 25, 1861, the company having obtained from the French Government mail contracts for the operation of the postal services to the West Indies, Mexico and the United States, changed its name to that of Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, and quickly became known on this side as the French Line.

In 1864, Le Havre was made the home port of the French Line, and the Washington was put into commission on June 15 of that same

The Washington was soon followed by the first Lafayette, in 1864. These vessels were followed by the Europe, the Imperatrice-Eugenie, in 1866; the Napoleon III, in 1866, and the Panama. These were paddle-wheel steamers which later were transformed into screw steamers and were rechristened the Amerique, the Ville Du Havre and the Canada. They were followed by the Saint-Laurent, the France.

In 1883, La Normandie was added to the Havre-New York service, and in 1886 she was joined by four sister ships, La Champagne, La Gascogne, La Bretagne and La Bourgogne. In 1891 came La Touraine.

In 1908 the French Line inaugurated its first one-class cabin service with the steamer Chicago, 14,000 tons. An attempt had been made several years earlier by another transatlantic steamship company to operate a service of that kind, but it failed after a short trial, conditions at that time not being quite favorable for such an experiment. The one-cabin service started in 1908 by the French Line flourished quickly and in 1911 a second steamer of that type, the Rochambeau, 12,676 tons, was added to the fleet. She was followed by La Bourdonnais and the Roussillon, and in 1925 by the De Grasse, 17,759 tons. All horses, was put into commission. She was followed by the Lafayette. This ship has been transferred to the Havre-Mexico service and is now called the Mexique, her name having been changed upon the launching of the third Lafayette in May, 1929. The Espagne had already been launched on April 25, 1915. These were followed by the Paris, in June, 1921, 35,000 tons and 45,000 horsepower, and the Ile de France, 43,000 tons and 54,000

In 1912 the France, a quadruple-ender, lines of 23,769 tons and 42,000

The Ile de France bears the distinction of having been the first transatlantic passenger liner to inaugurate a ship-to-shore airplane service. On August 18, 1929, a mail amphibian plane was catapulted from the ship 300 miles from New York, saving fifteen hours in the delivery of mail. This service was continued up to October, 1928, and resumed again on August 20, 1929, up to October 23, when it was interrupted again until next Summer.

CONTINUES TALKS ON HARD SAYINGS

Centennial Minister on Paradoxes of Jesus—Lessons From Jonah at Morning Service

At the morning service in Centennial Rev. Geo. S. Fringle will draw some lessons for everyday life from the book of Jonah. In the evening he will consider another of the apparently impossible sayings of Jesus recorded in Matthew 23: 39, "He that findeth his life shall lose it, and he that loseth his life shall find it."
The music at both services will be unusually fine. In the morning the anthem will be "O Lord, How Manifold" (Barbary); Miss Eileen Foster will sing "My Task" (Ashford). The anthem, "What of the Night" (Dennis) will be given in the evening, with Mr. Joe Almond taking the solo part. Miss Gladys March will sing "Come, Ye Blessed" (Pringle-Scott). A very attractive feature in the evening will be the singing of a verse of two of each of four or five old-fashioned hymns in place of the usual second hymn.
Centennial members are looking forward with very special interest to Sunday the 24th inst., when they will celebrate the church anniversary.

EVENSING, ST. MARTIN'S

There will be full Evensong and sermon tomorrow at 7 o'clock, at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Gorge.

Rev. Samuel Angus Martin has reached Toronto. From his viewpoint the Hudson Bay route has arrived and Churchill is the biggest missionary centre in the Dominion. His church, three banks, two bunkhouses and a boarding house constitute the present equipment of Churchill, apart from structures connected with the railway and dredging operations. Starting from the Pas under appointment of Manitoba Conference in 1926, "Sam" Martin worked among the construction gangs and knocked at the door of Churchill for many months, receiving a card of honor and mail from Abbotford, B.C., on May 9 and erecting a church building with his own hands. He held service in the completed structure on June 16. This has demonstrated to him the practicality of the Hudson Bay Railway.

REFRIGERATORS USED ALL YEAR

FOOD KEPT AT EVEN TEMPERATURE IN WINTER AND WASTE AVOIDED

Electric Refrigeration No Longer Luxury for Few—Cost of Operation is Low

MR. H. S. BROWN

The rapid evolution of electric refrigeration from a luxury for the few to an all-year necessity for the many was emphasized by H. S. Brown, manager of refrigerator sales for the Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., who is a visitor in Victoria today, accompanied by Mr. M. D. Bergey, president of Campbell-Ewald, Ltd., advertising consultants, Toronto.

Daily newspapers, Mr. Brown told The Colonist, were very largely responsible for this change, and especially for the very rapid growth of winter refrigeration. "Most of us," he said, "can remember the time when refrigeration of any sort was pretty largely a summer-time luxury. Ice refrigeration was too expensive to use throughout the year. Then came electric refrigeration. Its low cost of operation—hardly one-tenth the cost of ice—made it economical for perpetual use."

"Almost at once dietetic experts set out to take advantage of this new device, by developing a growing volume of dishes requiring the use of the electric freezing unit or cooling chamber in their preparation. These were given public circulation principally through the women's pages of the daily newspapers, until today almost a majority of really modern dishes are so prepared."

"As a result, those who have become accustomed to electric refrigeration would find it almost as inconvenient today to get along without their refrigerators in the winter as to do without a cook-stove in the summer."

FREEZING AND THAWING
"At the same time, newspapers have been keeping their readers familiar with the advance of knowledge in health and sanitation, domestic economy, and similar subjects. Included among these, of course, has been the fact that a low, even temperature is absolutely essential for the preservation of food. It is known, today, that it is not enough to keep foods cold. They must be kept constantly cold, uniformly cold, and not too cold. Alternate freezing and thawing—the sort of refrigeration which nature gives us in the winter—may be even more dangerous than no refrigeration at all. From the standpoint of food wastage it certainly is vastly more costly than the overhead and operation costs of electric refrigeration combined. These facts, too, have been effectively brought home to the public by newspapers in their discussions of domestic science and economics. And as electric refrigeration is now almost able to provide a low, unvarying temperature, it is being resorted to by increasing thousands in their desire to possess all the best advantages of life in this mechanized modern era."

In these days of widespread prosperity, Mr. Brown added, the step from "desire" to "need" is usually a short one, in every stratum of society.

While mechanical forms of refrigeration were more than a century old, he pointed out, the high development of refrigerator models suitable for general domestic use had been a comparatively recent achievement.

FREE FROM DUST

"Most people are aware today," he said, "that the back porch, exposed as it is to the germ-laden dust of traffic, is no place for the refrigerator. Yet if ice refrigeration is attempted, and the high kitchen temperatures of Fall, Winter and Spring, even the costliest electric refrigerator becomes cheap by comparison—quite regardless of its greater saving of foodstuffs."

"Consequently, even in spite of the high initial cost, electric refrigerator sales have experienced tremendous growth during the past few years. I don't think it would be at all a rash prediction to say that the day is not far distant when electric refrigeration will be as generally in use as the motor car. We in any event, are organizing our distribution plans on that assumption. The poet who said, 'Let good digestion wait on appetite, and health on both,' knew human nature. Those things are of paramount importance to everyone, and because refrigeration 'waits on' all of them it is no longer regarded as a luxury but as a necessity which everyone sooner or later must have."

PROPOSE TO CLOSE ARMISTICE FUND

Amount of About $4,000 Has Been Received to Help Needy Veterans

By a majority vote of the Armistice Period Committee, taken at a meeting of that organization Thursday night, it was decided to halt the effort to raise a fund of $10,000 to provide assistance for veterans, their dependents, and widows and orphans of ex-service men.

The honorary secretary made a strong plea for the effort to be continued until the objective was reached in full. But it was the opinion of the majority that judicious expenditure of the fund of about $4,000 would afford some measure of relief, and as Armistice Day was a thing of the past, and public support of other worthy and deserving causes would undoubtedly be sought, it was not advisable to "carry on" the effort.

The fact that the campaign fell short of its objective by about $6,000 was regretted, and the hope was expressed that sympathizers who have delayed making their contributions will send donations to Captain C. P. L. Money, honorary treasurer, 512 Fort Street.

An honorary secretary will be elected at the next meeting of the Armistice Period Committee, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Comrade H. W. Hart.

Reference was made to a net increase of 87 per cent over last year in subscriptions received from five schools where addresses were given by veterans, showing how the children respond when they understand the situation.

Comrade E. G. Snowden was appointed honorary relieving officer. He will be responsible for all relief expenditures, investigate all applications and prevent duplication. The secretaries of ex-service organizations will, in the first instance, recommend applicants, and pass them on to the relieving officer for attention.

At the earliest possible moment a complete financial statement will be published, and as far as the records permit, appreciation for services rendered during the work of the past seven weeks will be given.

CO-OPERATIVES OPPOSED TO TAX

Argue With Premier That Such Associations Do Not Earn Profits From Their Operations

VANCOUVER, Nov. 15.—Does a co-operative association as such earn profits? A strong delegation representing the Associated Growers of the Okanagan, the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association and the Egg Pool argued strenuously to Premier King this afternoon that there was no profit and would not possibly be such a thing.

The reason for the representation was that income tax officials of both the Dominion and provincial governments have within the past year endeavored to assess the co-operative bodies for income tax.

The only profits of a co-operative, it was claimed, are those paid to the members, who pay income tax on their own earnings.

ARE NOT PROFITS

Undivided earnings could not be considered as profits subject to income tax, it was claimed, because these were funds required for the operation of the business. If not taken from the year's earnings the members would have to put up these sums out of their own pockets.

An amendment to the Income Tax Act was asked which would clarify the situation. The collection effort touches operations as far back as 1923. In the case of the Fraser Valley the sum required to meet the department's claim would be $50,000, and the directors stated there was no such sum available or collectable for the purpose.

Half of Graves Of Veterans Bear Wreaths

Of the 221 veterans' graves in local cemeteries, 110 are marked by poppy wreaths. It was the hope of the Armistice Period Committee that every grave would bear a token of remembrance and that none would be without it.

Many business houses co-operated with the committee and it is due to their actions that the memory of one-half of the veterans buried in this neighborhood has been honored by having individual wreaths placed on their graves.

The thanks of the committee are due to Comrade J. H. Frank, who used his car and gave a lot of valuable time in taking the wreaths out to the cemeteries. The committee also desires to thank the business men and others who sur-rendered wreaths.

Lumbermen Thank Federal Premier For Subsidies

VANCOUVER, Nov. 15.—Premier King had a unique experience early this afternoon. He was waited on by a large and influential delegation of lumbermen.

The unique characteristic of this event was that the deputation had no request to make.

On the contrary they came to express their thanks for the subsidies granted by the Dominion Government in its efforts to extend its sales to the Australian market.

Do you like to hear music while you are dining? Some folks do and others don't. Cheerful, pleasant airs are thought to aid digestion, but those that are sad or so striking that they quite absorb the listener's attention are deemed not so good.

In a Boston restaurant, where the versatile orchestra will play anything a diner may request, a patron was asked what he would like the orchestra to play.

"If I am agreeable to everybody else," said the diner, "I wish they would please play checkers till I finish my dinner."

Mickey Walker and Kearns Facing Life Suspensions From Boxing Game

Illinois' Ring Dukes Lay Down Law Upon $10,000 Forfeit Row

Boxing Heads Lay Cards on Table Following Walker's Los Angeles Fight With Hudkins—Want Situation Cleared Up Soon

MIKEY WALKER

head of the Illinois commission.

POSTED FORFEIT

The $10,000 was posted by Kearns to guarantee Walker's participation

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 15.—If the $10,000 forfeit row between Jack Kearns and the Illinois Athletic Commission isn't settled to the satisfaction of the commission, Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, will be suspended for life. That is the threat of a letter received by William H. Hanlon, chairman of the California Athletic Commission, from John V. Cline, head of the Illinois commission.

But the forfeit money meanwhile had been sent to Hanlon to hold pending the title bout. When the Illinois commission asked for its return Kearns secured a temporary injunction in local courts tying up the money.

HANLON MARKS TIME

That's how it stands now with final arguments on the injunction still to come. Hanlon said today he intends to hold the $10,000 until the courts tell him what to do with it, and the row, as he sees it, is strictly between Kearns and the Illinois board.

Walker actually fought Ace Hudkins in Los Angeles nearly a month after September 30 and the Illinois commission holds that Kearns broke his agreement.

But the forfeit money meanwhile had been sent to Hanlon to hold pending the title bout. When the Illinois commission asked for its return Kearns secured a temporary injunction in local courts tying up the money.

C. BELANGER DECISIONS LEO LOMSKI

Canadian Light-Heavyweight Champion Wins Call Over Aberdeen Logger in Ten-Round Mix

TIDE TURNS IN THE SIXTH ROUND

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 15.—Using a terrific right hook to the head that landed so often as to become almost methodical, Charlie Belanger, of Winnipeg, Canadian light-heavyweight champion, won a ten-round decision over Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Washington, here tonight.

The decision was a popular one. Belanger, substituting for George Courtenay, Oklahoma cowboy, had Powerful defenceman of the Victoria Cubs, who is expected to show some great form this season, Belanger played left wing last season but Manager Anderson switched him to the back line for a break. He will play on the defence, along with Oliver Redpath and Ernie Kenny.

TALKING TODAY

DONIE BUSH: The Most Remarkable Incident of My Career.
EARL COMBS: The Most Unusual Play I Remember.
BILL TERRY: Luque Decides Not to Throw a Fast Ball in a Pinch.

By J. P. GLASS

ONIE Bush, returning to the American League as manager of the White Sox, recalls that when he joined the Detroit club in 1908 he went through the most marvelous experience that probably ever fell to the lot of a minor league recruit.

"I played with Indianapolis, of the American Association in 1908," says Bush. "That same Fall I joined Detroit, which had drafted me."

"Charlie O'Leary, the old Tiger infielder, was hurt and I was sent into short stop after my arrival. It wasn't an easy spot for me, for the club was in the pennant race and had an outside chance to win."

"For eleven games I got into the line-up we won without a loss. On the very last day of the season we grabbed the pennant."

"But here was the sad part for me. I was drafted too late to be eligible to play in the world series. I had to sit on the bench and see my club lose."

Donie went on to explain that he didn't mean his presence on the team would have brought victory to the Tigers, but that it was awfully tough to warm the bench after his previous experience.

"But why should Donie recall these events at this time?"

"Well, you see," says he, "our last game of the season—the one which gave us the pennant—was again the White Sox. Bill Donovan pitched for and shut them out."

A HARD HIT BALL.

Earl Combs tells me that one of the greatest plays he ever saw and certainly the most unusual was one that came up in the 1926 world series against the Cardinals.

"I forget which game it was," says Earl. "However, that doesn't matter."

"Here were the circumstances: Babe Ruth had gotten around to third, and I remember correctly, Tony Lazzeri was at bat."

"Lester Bell was playing third for the Cardinals."

"Ruth had taken a short lead off the sack when Lazzeri hit a terrific grounder down toward Bell."

"Ruth turned right back for third without hesitation. If the ball got past Bell he'd have time to score. But it was going so hard it just naturally pulled him after it. And darned if he didn't jam right into Ruth two feet off the bag, putting him out."

"I've never seen another play like that. See if you can remember one."

TAUGHT A LESSON

Bill Terry, Giant first baseman, never has had anything like success batting against Senor Luque, the Cincinnati Reds' Cuban pitcher.

For something like three years he never made a hit off Adolfo.

"Once I came near getting a good one," says Bill. "It was in a pinch, too."

"Luque handed me a fast one and I hit one that looked good for three bases. A Red outfielder made a wonderful catch, though, and killed me off."

"That's the first good one I've hit off you in years," I told Luque.

"I hope it's the last," he replied.

"I know one thing—I'll not throw a fast one in a pinch again."

Advance Is To Continue
Says Whitney

(H. E. Hunning & Co., Ltd.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Whitney says today: The best thing that can be said about the market is that it is advancing orderly, and moderately, and that, so long as the market continues to advance, it will continue to advance. I believe that these characteristics will be evident in the week, and that, consequently, the list will move decidedly higher.

Time money is above 5 per cent. Call money around 4 1/2 per cent. The redemptive rate has been reduced and will be reduced again. Brokerage loans show a decrease of approximately 41 per cent. Stocks are still cheap, so cheap, in fact, that at this stage of the advance it is hardly worth while awaiting minor reactions.

Despite the statement to the contrary, general business will be adversely affected by the break in the market, but the break has gone so far beyond the level of a normal discount of a severe business reaction, that the lower earnings which will develop in the final quarter of next year will be rather drastic but of very short duration, and, having been overestimated at the price level to which stocks decline, the market will actually advance while business recedes.

In recommending the purchase of American Sugar, International Utilities "A," White Rock, U.S. Realty & Improvement, General Asphalt, Brooklyn & Manhattan Transit, dividend-paying issues are presented with dividends absolutely safe, which will return a yield so far in excess of what the cost of money will be that they will advance if for no other reason than that behind the advance in the bond market, namely, yield. If the proportion to the price of money.

To this list I would now add Porto Rican, American Tobacco "A," paying $12 to yield 10 per cent. on which earnings this year will approximate $12 a share. Another exceptional bargain is found in Electric Boat, which received this year $3,500,000 in settlement of Government claims. With 800,000 shares of stock you can throw the whole company away, and the Government payment equals the selling price of the stock, while if the net working capital is added, we have a figure more than double the selling price of the stock. While these few issues are bargains, and practically all of the standard issues, among which you can take your choice.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A teacher, discoursing on King the Great, touched on the burning of the cakes. At the close of the oral lesson the children were required to write a composition on it.

"Now, children," said the teacher, "tell me all you know about Alfred the Great, but don't mention the burning of the cakes; we have had that so often. Tell me what else you know."

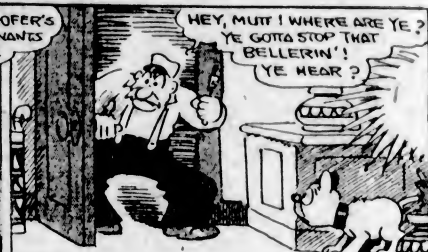

One child's paper read as follows: "... and Alfred went into the woman's cottage, but the less said about that the better."
